OUTCOME OF THE PROGRAM:

- Students gain a better understanding of various career options available in their field of study.
- Development of both hard skills (technical skills specific to their major) and soft skills (communication, teamwork, problem-solving).
- Practical experience through internships, co-ops, or project-based learning.
- Enhanced understanding of workplace expectations and professional behavior.
- Increased self-awareness regarding personal interests, strengths, and career aspirations.
- Programs that explore career pathways provide undergraduate students with valuable experiences and resources, preparing them for successful transitions from academia to the workforce. By participating in these programs, students can make informed career choices, develop essential skills, and build a professional network that supports their career growth.
